Would You Rather

Description

"Would You Rather" is a game where you are presented with a question with two answers. Once you pick an answer, you will be able to see how many people picked that answer. You can navigate between previous questions or get new ones. You can also submit your own questions to the servers. All questions follow a very simple format, they start with "Would you rather" and then provide two different options. E.g. "Would you rather go to Hogwarts or go to Mordor?".

Design

The web page will feature a main page where the game can be played, a login/register page, a contact page which allows users to send messages to tech support and a FAQ page.

Regular users

The web page will allow users to play the game without being logged in, however by logging in users gain the following benefits:

- All their answers get saved
- They will never see the same question twice
- They can submit their own questions
- They can send messages to tech support
- They can like or dislike questions
- They can report questions for inappropriate language

Tech support

Tech support can:

- Access messages sent by users
- Respond to them
- Mark them as important
- Report them

Administrator

The administrator can:

- Review user submitted questions and approve / reject them. If a question is approved, then it will be added to the game's question pool.
- Review questions that have been reported for inappropriate language by users
- Warn or ban users for false reports or submitting inappropriate questions
- Review messages marked as important or reported by tech support
